

Action Stirs Angry Storm In Senate

Washington (AP) — A batch of unevaluated charges against Chief Justice Earl Warren were made public yesterday by a subcommittee headed by Sen. Langer (R-ND) amid an angry storm in which Republican leaders denounced the accusations as "fantastic" and Langer's action as "shocking."

The charges said Warren followed the "Marxist line," appointed dishonest judges when he was governor of California and once was under control of a "liquor lobbyist." One of the charges was mailed to the Langer subcommittee by a man described by Deputy Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers as "a fugitive from justice."

Vice President Nixon called the accusations "completely fantastic and patently false."

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, denounced the subcommittee procedure by which the charges were spread on the public record as "The most shocking event I have observed in my eight years in the Senate."

The statements against Warren, which came from various sources, were read into the record of a public meeting of a Senate Judiciary subcommittee headed by Langer. The meeting broke up in a row when Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) protested that the charges were "the biggest lot of tommyrot ever brought before a Senate committee."

Knowland broke in at one point during the reading to say "I wouldn't submit a town marshal to this kind of charge."

Later Knowland went to the Senate press gallery and read to reporters a statement expressing shock at "the procedure followed today" and describing the charges against Warren as "unsworn, irresponsible and untrue."

Nixon put out a statement suggesting that "rather than wasting its time investigating the charges" Langer's subcommittee "could well spend some time investigating those who made them."

Chairman Langer contended that the derogatory statements about Warren were "the public's business" and added:

"I don't think a chief justice should be treated any differently than any other judge or district attorney or United States Marshall."

Langer said the 16 charges had been boiled down from "over 200 objections" to Senate confirmation of President Eisenhower's nomination of Warren for the nation's highest judicial office.

Warren, having been appointed when Congress was adjourned, is now serving on the high bench, but his confirmation is pending before Langer's Senate Judiciary subcommittee.

Langer earlier had expressed dissatisfaction with the way the administration was dispensing political patronage in his state, particularly postmaster and judgeship appointments, but he insisted this had no connection with his subcommittee's consideration of the Warren nomination.

Langer announced the subcommittee will meet again today and Watkins said he will move then that Warren's nomination be reported favorably to the full committee.

Knowland said he was confident the Senate would confirm Warren by an overwhelming vote.

Supersonic Shock Seen As Weapon

Los Angeles (AP) — Use of aircraft shock waves as wartime weapons of destruction was foreseen yesterday by the chief engineer of North American Aviation Co.

Raymond H. Rice speculated in a talk before the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences that shock waves preceding supersonic planes might correspond roughly to the force of a hurricane of about 140 m.p.h.

"Any heavily populated area has light structures on which this type of pressure might inflict very severe damage," Rice explained.

Bacardi Heir Kidnaped, Then Dramatically Rescued; Accused Chauffeur Shot To Death

Santiago, Cuba (AP) — A Cuban rum fortune heir, 8-year-old Facundo Bacardi, was kidnaped yesterday and dramatically rescued last night. Then the Bacardi family chauffeur was shot dead by army men after being accused of conspiring in the abduction.

The army said the chauffeur was shot down while trying to escape.

Another man, accused by the army as the actual kidnaper, was held under heavy guard at army headquarters.

Army officials said the chauffeur, identified as Guillermo Rodriguez, a former Cuban naval rating with a dishonorable discharge, was taken to a rural area to re-enact part of the kidnapping.

They said he suddenly made a dash for liberty and was shot down.

Rodriguez, 23 years old, took the boy from his home on the way to school yesterday morning and later reported that the youngster had been abducted.

The boy was rescued by an army lieutenant in the suburbs early last night from a man who ran when the officer called out the boy's name.

The man who fled was captured and identified as Manuel Echevarria, 20.

He was brought into Santiago under guard and confessed, the army said, that he and the chauffeur plotted and carried out the kidnapping.

Military headquarters said the accused man named the chauffeur of the Bacardi family as his only accomplice.

The chauffeur had returned to the Bacardi home yesterday morning with a story of having been terrorized by three kidnapers who seized the boy and left a note demanding $50,000 ransom.

Held for questioning, he was released in an effort to make contact with the kidnapers and pay the ransom, but returned and said his mission had been fruitless.

The boy was unharmed but hungry after a day of roving with his abductors in the suburbs.

The boy was found about 7 p. m. in the suburban village of Melgarejo, 12 miles from Santiago.

An army lieutenant riding in a jeep saw a youngster walking with a man, and on a chance yelled out:

"Facundo! Facundo!"

The boy turned and said, "I am Facundo." The man with him fled but was overtaken by the lieutenant and brought to Santiago.

The child, a member of one of the wealthiest families in the Caribbean area, was taken home and examined by two doctors. They pronounced him in fine shape.

The boy complained only that he was hungry.

George Proposes Increase In Income Tax Exemptions

Washington (AP) — Veteran Sen. George (D-Ga.) launched a Democratic move in the Senate yesterday to slash individual income taxes by an estimated 4 1/2 billion dollars this year and by 10 billion dollars next year.

He introduced a bill to raise personal exemptions for each taxpayer and each dependent from the present $600 level to $800 this year and $1,000 next year. That would give low income and large family groups the biggest proportionate tax cuts.

A Democratic leader promptly predicted almost all Senate Democrats and many Republicans would support George's proposal. Several Republicans indicated they would support at least some increase in individual exemptions.

George told the Senate he was "not an alarmist nor a prophet of doom" but he felt his plan would be the proper approach to ward off a serious economic downturn.

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.), representing the Eisenhower administration view, told the Senate if the George proposal were approved without change "We might lose in inflation what we gain in purchasing power."

"It is the part of wisdom to combine tax incentives for industry with tax relief for the individual," Flanders said. He urged against an "alarmist" or "political" approach to the problem.

All tax bills must originate in the House. But the House Ways and Means Committee has been working on a big tax revision project which is slated to hit the House floor within about two weeks. George's proposal could be attached when the bill reached the Senate.

The House group yesterday backed down slightly on a previously approved plan for cuts in taxes on stock dividends.

The plan, which has come under heavy Democratic fire as a "give-away" to wealthy families, would permit a percentage of dividend income to be deducted from tax payments. The deduction would be 5 per cent the first year, 10 per cent the second year and 15 per cent the third.

The committee decided today to drop the third year phase, leaving the maximum credit at 10 per cent. This would save taxpayers an estimated $50 million dollars a year.

Bricker Claims Dulles Altered View On Pacts

Washington (AP) — Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) accused Secretary of State Dulles yesterday of performing "a legal somersault" in his attitude toward changing the Constitution to limit treaty-making powers.

Bricker told the Senate that Dulles was saying last year that international agreements negotiated by the President "can not constitutionally become law of the land."

Since then supporters of Bricker's proposed constitutional change have cited court rulings to show that executive agreements can override state law, Bricker said, and added:

"When Mr. Dulles finally discovered the latest power . . . he opposed any move to surrender it."

The secretary has been opposed to the Bricker amendment since taking over at the State Department. Bricker contends that before the Republican victory in 1952 Dulles indicated he favored some curbs on treaty power.

Although Senate debate resumed yesterday on the Bricker amendment and several substitute proposals, it is expected that there will be no more votes on the issue until Tuesday.

Vatican Denies Pope Pius Worse

Vatican City (AP) — There still was deep concern last night for the health of Pope Pius XII.

Vatican sources denied a flurry of rumors earlier yesterday that the 77-year-old pontiff had taken a turn for the worse.

But they said that although there had been no deterioration in condition, his progress toward strength was very slight. Doctors and let it be known that a long said he still must have much rest, convalescence lies ahead.

Six Convicted Communists Prefer To Fight Prison Terms Rather Than Live In Russia

Detroit (AP) — Six Michigan Communists, convicted of Smith Act violations, yesterday decided to fight prison sentences ranging to five years rather than live in Russia.

Federal Judge Frank A. Picard, in sentencing the six defendants, extended the offer.

One of the defendants, Saul Wellman, 48, acting as a spokesman for the six, said Judge Picard's offer "was a play for newspaper headlines."

Wellman, and the other defendants, Nat Ganley, 48; Mrs. Helen Winter, 45; Thomas D. Dennis Jr., 35; Philip Schatz, 39, and William Allan, 46, expressed no emotion as Judge Picard passed sentence.

Ganley, termed "the most dangerous" of the defendants, by Judge Picard, was given a five-year term; Mrs. Winter and Allan, 4 years each; Dennis, 4 years, 6 months; and Schatz, 4 years and 4 months.

In addition, Judge Picard fined each of the defendants $10,000 — the maximum allowable under the Smith Act.

The defendants were convicted Tuesday of violating the Smith Act by conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the United States government.

All said they will appeal the verdict.

Judge Picard set bonds totaling $112,500 on the defendants pending the appeal. The six were remanded to the U. S. marshal until the bonds were posted.

The offer of the Russian alternative was similar to an offer made to defendants in another Smith Act trial in Pittsburgh.

The Pittsburgh defendants chose prison over Russia.

Dust Blacks Out Cities In Several States

By The Associated Press

The worst dust storm since the mid 30s whipped the Midwest from Nebraska to the Mexican border yesterday with winds up to 80 miles an hour.

The stifling dust cut visibility to zero in some places, closed schools, slowed traffic to a crawl, and piled dust deep in the streets. The high winds uprooted trees, unroofed small buildings and flattened radio towers and television antennas.

Tornado warnings were issued for the area between McAlester, Okla., and Little Rock, Ark., as swirling snowstorms and rain showers that accompanied the dust at many points were due to become general throughout a wide area by today.

Weather Bureau and soil conservation officials warned that the high winds and the prolonged drought could result in severe erosion but they said that a recurrence of the dust bowl days of the mid-1930s was unlikely.

Yesterday's dust storm was blamed by the Weather Bureau on a deep low pressure area over Oklahoma that was moving eastward. Snowstorms and rain showers accompanied the high winds raging over western Nebraska, eastern Colorado, Western Kansas, western Oklahoma, eastern New Mexico and western sections of Texas. Temperatures in that area were near the freezing mark.

The eerie dust storm was mingled with rain and snow storms for a weird weather pattern throughout the Midwest.

In western Nebraska falling snow was turned a light brown by the dust while in the eastern section of the state rains and light snows ranging up to one half inch fell at the heaviest moisture of the year from a single storm.

At Garden City, Kan., merchants shoveled piled up silt three inches deep from the sidewalk. Later the sidewalks became quagmires as a heavy rain turned the silt to mud. Stores were closed and employees were put to work covering up merchandise to protect it from the dust.

Winds of hurricane force ripped at 80 miles an hour through western Kansas, smashing windows and trees. A highway near Garden City was blocked by windblown tumbleweeds that piled up to the height of a car.

Street lights were turned on in mid-morning at Guymon in the Oklahoma Panhandle.

A Greyhound bus was stranded with 17 passengers for eight hours near Ratan in 20 degree weather as a blizzard with winds up to 75 miles an hour whipped northeastern New Mexico.

Black dust covered most of eastern New Mexico during the day but heavy snows fell at Portales and Clovis.

In the Panhandle of Texas — heart of the old dust bowl in the mid 30s — schools were closed at Stratford. The dust blacked out many cities.

Bribery Scandal Threatens Pro-American Government Of Prime Minister Yoshida

Tokyo, Saturday (AP) — Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's pro-American government was threatened today by a bribery scandal and there was speculation he may have to give way to Mamoru Shigemitsu who signed Japan's surrender.

The press said secret testimony of a big Tokyo money lender about deals made at two plush geisha restaurants linked some of Yoshida's highest cabinet and party members with large-scale corruption.

"This is a very important document that can topple the Cabinet if I release it," said Shoji Tanaka, chairman of the House of Representatives committee which heard the testimony.

Tanaka is linked with a faction of the dominant Liberal party which has challenged Yoshida's leadership.

The personal integrity of 76-year-old Yoshida never has been questioned but newspapers were speculating openly for the first time that the scandals may prove too much for his administration, now five years old.

Asahi bannered its story "Blood Taxes Squandered on Geisha Quarters," implying misuse of taxes paid by an impoverished country.

If Yoshida should fall, it was believed generally that a conservative coalition would form the next administration, probably led by Shigemitsu, the one-legged wartime foreign minister who signed the surrender aboard the battleship Missouri. He later served a term as a "war criminal." He is not considered anti-American however.

Asahi said the deals involved bribes and lavish favors handed out by subsidized shipping companies to government officials.

Should Yoshida fall, the change could have a profound effect on Japan-American relations. He has been firmly pro-American on major issues even to the point of drawing domestic criticism.

Earth Gives Way Under Big Plant

Windsor, Ont. (AP) — The earth started swallowing buildings of a big chemical plant yesterday on an old salt mine shaft site in Windsor's West End.

Employees of the six million dollar Canadian Industries Ltd. plant and nearby industries were hastily withdrawn as some of the buildings almost vanished and others tilted crazily.

Six Accused Of Being Communists

Albany, N. Y. (AP) — A former Daily Worker reporter yesterday charged six General Electric employees face-to-face with being Communists, and all refused to say before Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wyo.) whether it was true.

But Arthur Owens, one of the six, declared at the public hearing that he would call the ex-newspaperman "a damnable liar" if he were not appearing before what Owens called a "Fascist committee."

Jean Arsenault Jr., 26, appeared as a surprise witness at the opening of the two-day hearing before McCarthy, sitting as a one-man Senate Investigations Subcommittee.

FIVE CENTS

U. S. 'Sought' Inclusion Of Chinese Reds

By Warren Rogers Jr.

Washington (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles returned by plane from the Berlin conference last night, saying the terms for an Asian peace conference at Geneva are "100 per cent what we have wanted."

Dulles said at the National Airport that the makeup of the conference, which will include representatives of the Red Chinese government, and its site in neutral Switzerland are "precisely what we have always sought."

There have been critical rumblings here that the Big Four agreement in Berlin involved "appeasement" of the Reds. Dulles plans a radio-TV report to the nation next Wednesday night to explain the American position.

Accompanied by nine aides, the secretary arrived at the military air terminal in a special Air Force plane which left Berlin Thursday.

Facing a waiting battery of newsmen and television cameras, Dulles declared that failure of the four foreign ministers to reach an agreement on European problems at Berlin has actually increased the prospects for European unity.

This is so, he said, because the Russians showed during the four weeks of stubborn negotiations that they are "not willing to let go their grip anywhere" and that the Soviet Union would like to extend its captive realm if it could.

The decision to meet with the Chinese Reds and others at Geneva aroused some anxiety in the Senate and brought a hot protest from South Korea's ambassador here, Dr. You Chan Yang. The ambassador said the Geneva Conference, scheduled to start April 26, represents "a diplomatic victory by the Soviets."

It bypasses the United Nations, he said, and is a first move by this country toward diplomatic recognition of Red China.

The South Korean diplomat called at the State Department to express his views. The Geneva meeting will tackle Korean problems and seek a way to end the fighting in Indochina.

Against this background, Dulles said:

"Our Far Eastern discussions led to an agreement on a conference to unite Korea, as had been agreed on at the armistice. The terms are 100 per cent what we wanted. The place and composition of the conference are precisely what we sought."

Dulles continued, "and it was expressly stipulated that no recognition of Red China is involved."

While conceding that no progress was made at Berlin in uniting Germany or "blistering" Austria, Dulles said the conference demonstrated the firmness of the Western alliance and showed that the Russians "have not changed their purposes."

South Korea, Nationalists Lash Decision

London (AP) — South Korea and Nationalist China lashed out yesterday at the Big Four decision to admit the Chinese Reds to an Asian peace conference.

But U. S. Secretary of State Dulles immediately laid plans to refute talk that the decision involved "appeasement" of the Reds and a diplomatic victory for Soviet Russia.

Both Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden have admitted deep disappointment over failure of the foreign ministers' meeting to crack the deadlock over Germany and Austria.

Eden, arriving in London from Berlin yesterday, told newsmen "we tried very hard to get the Russians to agree to a settlement. But I am sorry to say that the Russians wouldn't agree."

Eden said the decision to hold an Asian conference on Korea and Indochina opened up "some prospects for agreement on the Far East. This, I admit, is a modest achievement but at least it shows that our labors have not been entirely negative in their results."

Woman Regarded As 'More Deadly'

London (AP) — A Scotland Yard murder expert says woman is indeed the more deadly of the species.

"Men generally kill quickly and mercifully," Cmdr. C. H. Hatherill, head of the Yard's Criminal Investigation Division, told a meeting of the Royal Empire Society. He continued:

"When a woman decides to kill someone, she usually uses poison, and just sits for weeks watching her victim suffer terrible agonies before dying, without any compassion or pity at all."

Israeli-Jordan Parley Called

United Nations, N. Y. (AP) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld of the United Nations yesterday called a conference of Israel and Jordan on border troubles. It is to be held in Jerusalem under his chairmanship at a date to be set later.

He did so at Israel's insistence and over Jordan's opposition. Israel first proposed the conference Nov. 12 and repeated the proposal formally in three letters to the secretary general.

Ignore McCarthy

Washington (AP) — The army yesterday ignored an ultimatum from Sen. McCarthy that the service produce the names of all people involved in the promotion and honorable discharge of a reserve dentist.

Reds Attack Scelba

Rome (AP) — Communists opened an oratorical offensive in a police-ringed Senate yesterday against Premier Mario Scelba.

Sunday School Lesson

The Man Born Blind

Scripture—John 9.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

This lesson is the story of a man who was blind from his birth, to whom the world was a dark, mysterious place with all its beauties shut away from him.

How many of us who have normal sight and have had all our lives are blind to the earth's beauty and goodness? There are some who never notice a glorious sunrise or sunset; a field of blossoming white snow or ice on trees, bushes and plants sparkling in the winter sunshine, or the glories of early spring foliage and flowers.

Do we rejoice in the miracles of the changing seasons, thinking, "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof; the world and they that dwell therein" (Psalm 24:1), and give heartfelt thanks for all our blessings?

There are those who need to have their eyes opened not only to the beauties of earth, but to the love and kindness of those around them. True we who see visually must also notice evil, cruel conditions under which man often lives, disease that maims him, poverty and injustice, but if we believe in God and Christ, we can do our part in trying to alleviate suffering and to bring about better conditions for all.

"As Jesus passed by, He saw a man which was blind from his birth." So begins our lesson. This started a discussion when the disciples asked Jesus who had sinned, the man or his parents, to bring on the condition? Jesus said no one had sinned, "but the works of God should be made manifest in him. I must work the works of Him that sent Me, while it is day; the night cometh when no man can work."

Then the Lord spate upon the ground, made a clay with earth and anointed the eyes of the man with it saying, "Go, wash in the pool of Siloam (which is, by interpretation, Sent)." The man went and he washed, and came seeing.

When his neighbors saw him they were amazed and puzzled. Some said, "Is not this he that sat and begged?" Some answered that it was indeed the same man; others said no, it is someone like him. The man answered them positively, "I am he," and he told his story, but when they asked him where the Man was who had performed the miracle, he said he did not know.

Hearing of it, the Pharisees had the man brought before them and questioned him. They asked him how he had received his sight and he told them exactly what had happened.

Rev. Edgar B. Moore Serving First Permanent Charge At Canadensis, McComas Chapel

Rev. Edgar B. Moore, new pastor of Canadensis Methodist Church and McComas Chapel, is serving his first permanent charge after previous student work in several Eastern churches.

The successor to Rev. Claude L. Hollenman, who now is at Rahmhurst, Pa., came here Dec. 1 from Canadensis Methodist Church where he was a student pastor 18 months.

Prior to that he served for a year

Rev. Edgar B. Moore, new pastor of Canadensis Methodist Church and McComas Chapel, is serving his first permanent charge after previous student work in several Eastern churches.

At the South Amboy, N. J., Methodist Church.

Rev. Moore was ordained as a deacon May, 1952, and will become a full member of the Philadelphia Conference of the Methodist Church this May.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Moore of Moorestown, N. J., he graduated from Germantown, Pa., Friends School in 1946, where he played football. Later he matriculated at Wesleyan College, Middletown, Conn., playing football and serving as member of the college glee club. He received his degree there in 1950.

Rev. Moore's ministerial studies were at Drew Seminary, Madison, N. J.

Rev. and Mrs. Moore and year-old daughter, Cynthia Leigh, now reside in the parsonage at Canadensis.

Pastors Arrange Catechetical Rally

Kunkleton—Plans for the catechetical rally Monday, March 22, at 7 p.m., in Stratington Evangelical and Reformed Church, were made here this week by the Carbon-Monroe Ministerial Association at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Adan Bohner.

Rev. Albert Peters directed the business meeting. Showing of a film was followed by a social hour. Present were Rev. and Mrs. Peters, Lansford; Rev. and Mrs. Ray Klingman, Cherryville; Rev. and Mrs. R. Edwin Kutz, Bowmanstown; Rev. and Mrs. William Foose, Tannersville; Rev. and Mrs. Alton Albright, Gilbert; Rev. Haas of Stratington and the hosts.

Rule For Life Selected As Sermon Topic

"A Rule for Life" will be the subject of the sermon to be preached in Zion Evangelical Reformed Church tomorrow at 11 a.m. by the Minister, Rev. Frank H. Blatt. It will be based on the contributions to mankind made by Washington and Lincoln.

The organist, Mrs. Lucy Quig will play "Not Unto Us" and "Postlude in E flat."

The Senior Choir will sing a medley of patriotic hymns. Soloist will be Harry Miller, baritone.

Flowers will be placed by the Dirigo class. The ushers will be James Agins, James LaBar, Ernest Setzer and Clinton Warner.

A teen-age meeting and supper will be held at 5 p.m. The speaker will be Rev. William Foose, of Tannersville.

The Faithful Workers class will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the church school room.

Knights Of Malta To Hold Election

St. John's Commandery No. 186, Knights of Malta, will observe Past Commanders Night at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Malta Temple.

Commandery officers will be elected, and Past Commanders will vote for officers of the Grand Commandery of Pennsylvania.

Following the business session a social time will take place in the basement social room. Supper will precede a program of games and a quilt pitching contest.

Father-Son Fete Set For Tuesday

Next Tuesday at 6:15 p.m. the Men's Fellowship of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church, of which Henry S. Evans is president, will hold its annual "Father's and Son's Banquet."

Highlights of the program will be a "stunt" community sing about the tables; "The Dynamic Willards," a couple who present a program of magic and a film in technical. Prizes will be awarded to the oldest father present, to the father bringing the most sons, and to the "newest" father. The program is so planned that the dinner and the entertainment will conclude by 8 p.m.

Tickets are in the hands of a committee of 23 men.

Presbyterian Service On Air Sunday

The 11 a.m. worship service of the First Presbyterian Church in Stroudsburg will be broadcast tomorrow over Station WVPO.

The pastor, Rev. Ernest T. Campbell, will deliver a sermon on "The Man Who Turned Back." This sermon will also be preached at the 8:45 service.

Special music will be provided at the early service by the Westminster Choir singing "Light and Truth." At 11, the Senior Choir will sing "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones."

The youth groups of the church will meet at 7 p.m. Miss Virginia Hess, one of the advisers of the Junior group, will be in charge of the program.

Grace Church Pastor Lists Message Theme

Sexagesima Sunday will be observed at 11 a.m. Sunday in Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg. This pre-lenten service, according to the Latin nomenclature of the day, means approximately 60 days before Easter.

Rev. William F. Wunder, pastor, will deliver the morning sermon on "Evangelism For Jesus Christ."

Flowers will be placed by Mrs. William A. Hughes in memory of her husband, William, and son, Edward Earl. Bulletins will be presented by Mr. and Mrs. Foster Minnich and family. Harvey J. Hooper, James Weiss, James S. Weiss and William R. Super will serve as ushers. Miss Leila Bruch and Mrs. William Lee will be in charge of the nursery. Douglas Townsend Jr. and Douglas Metzger will serve as acolytes.

The senior choir, with Carroll R. All directing, will sing "Consider and Hear Me." Church School will be conducted at 9:45 a.m.

Methodist Young People Convene

Readers—Methodist Youth Fellowship met at the church here this week when routine business was transacted and a worship service held.

Attending were Elizabeth Frailey, Marlene Woodling, Carol Derrick, Pamela Conklin, Bobby Bryson, John Frailey and the group leader Mrs. Warren Smith.

The next meeting will be held here on March 1 at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets are in the hands of a committee of 23 men.

Spiritual Life Visitation Teams Of East Stroudsburg Church Plan First Meeting

In cooperation with the church-wide "spiritual life missions," the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church will hold its first "visitation teams" meeting on Sunday at 8:30 p.m.

At least 75 teams of two each will cooperate in this endeavor. They will reach into every home in the membership. The purpose of the first meeting is to study ways and means of effective approach in the carrying out of the spiritual

'Mind' Given As Subject For Lesson

That increased wisdom and capability are available to all through obedience to God's spiritual laws will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday, when the lesson-sermon is entitled "Mind." Passages read from the King James Version of the Bible include the following admonition of Moses: "Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord: And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might" (Deuteronomy 6:4, 5).

Among the selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following: "Moses advanced a nation to the worship of God in Spirit instead of matter, and illustrated the grand human capacities of being bestowed by immortal Mind." (200:4).

The Golden Text is from Romans: "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out!" (11:33).

Mrs. George Lee's birthday was celebrated by her WSCS group shortly before the date. The occasion was marked by a surprise birthday, Valentine's Day gathering of her family on Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ackerman of Stroudsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ackerman of East Stroudsburg and Miss Charlene Ackerman, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stine and Miss Marlene Stine, Miss Gwen Frey and William Shepts brought birthday cake and ice cream to the celebration. Mrs. Lee's neighbor, Mrs. Clair Singer, also presented Mr. and Mrs. Lee a decorated cake.

The first graders in the Gap public school are giving much discussion in their homes to their breakfast next Tuesday; for they are to take dishes and eating utensils to school for a demonstration of what makes a nutritious morning meal. Mrs. Lillian Marshall, their teacher, will tell each child what to bring as his or share of food.

THE PARABLE OF THE SHIP

¶ Sin is the anchor on a man's soul. It lets him drift with every current and be buffeted by every storm, but it keeps him tied to the FLOOR of the sea.

¶ Faith is the sail that rises from man's soul. It links his life to a Strength ABOVE and carries him forward to his destiny.

¶ What good is the sail if the anchor is down?

¶ That, in parable, was man's spiritual dilemma through all the ages before Christ.

¶ And, in parable again, the simple truth of the Christian Gospel is that Jesus Christ in dying for the sins of men has forever cut away the anchor!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Brotherhood -- Let's Get Together

Getting together is an old American custom. It's natural for us to want to hear what the other fellow has on his mind.

Time was when the town meeting brought forth the folks to talk together and many a vital issue was solved around the country store cracker barrel and pot-bellied stove. And who can tell how many valuable contributions to public welfare came from a quilling bee?

Well, time passes and settings change. How can we today in our society get together to build brotherhood and good will? Let's start in the home.

The National Conference of Christians and Jews suggests good will home gatherings to start during Brotherhood Week—with friends and neighbors coming together to share a social experience that will advance human understanding. Here are a few ways that people of different backgrounds can get together to make for happier living in the same apartment building, block or neighborhood.

The greatness of America is in the rich variety of its people. Sometimes we forget that our very differences have developed the American genius.

During Brotherhood Week—Feb. 21-28—we take time to reassert our belief in the values of our common humanity, and our common individuality.

One of the best ways we can each contribute to this renewal of faith in the American way is by getting together with our friends and neighbors, fellow workers and strangers, and enjoy a fellowship possible where people are free, a fellowship that transcends race, creed or national origin. "Section 11. All courts shall be open..."

Judges and Photos

(From The Pittsburgh Press)

The Chief Justice of Pennsylvania, Horace Stern, has entered what promises to be a continuing dispute over the right of the people, through their newspapers, to be informed of the events that take place in their courts.

Justice Stern backs up Judge Edward G. Bauer, of Westmoreland County, who has declared the entire Greensburg courthouse and jail off-limits to newspaper photographers.

Photographic reporting being part of the service newspapers offer the American public, they have been taking pictures in courthouses in Pennsylvania ever since the camera came into general use. To help preserve order, they do not attempt to take pictures in the courtroom itself.

Judge Bauer's unusual order not only bars news cameras from the courtroom; it bars them from the entire property and imposes a blackout by judicial fiat.

Judge Bauer bases his order on the canons of ethics of the American Bar Assn. (although a reading of those canons indicates the Bar Assn. was talking about the courtroom, and not the courthouse.) Justice Stern takes the same view as Judge Bauer.

But both these gentlemen, being learned in the law, must know that what the American Bar Assn. says judges should do doesn't have the standing of law in Pennsylvania.

A better guide to judicial conduct would be the constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. For convenience's sake, we offer a few choice quotes from Article I of that document:

"Section 7. The printing press shall be free to every person who may undertake to examine the proceedings of the legislature or any branch of government, and no law shall ever be made to restrain the right thereof. The free communication of thoughts and opinions is one of the invaluable rights of man and every citizen may freely speak, write and print on any subject, being responsible for the abuse of that liberty."

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

WATCH YOUR STEP MY EYE!

Actors' agents are now refusing to take performers who are without injuries and have no airtight ratings.

First it was Godfrey's hip, then Gleason's ankle and now Galt's rosy cheeks.

Assorted bruises and contusions. We even suspect that Ernie Hemingway's recent mishaps were a prelude to a TV show.

The fellows who announce time out for station breaks are now announcing time out for performers' "breaks." Bob Hope appeared on TV the other night unhandaged and his TV rating took a big drop. Jimmy Durante is practically under a new blackout because he isn't in a plaster cast.

The trend points toward a merger of the TV comedy hours with the Johns Hopkins Review. Accidents have become so profitable to TV actors that there might well be a new program called "Bank the Breaks."

All through theatrical history you could get an entire theatrical company, including musicians and press agents, into a train wreck without attracting anywhere near the attention a TV comic gets if he sprains a toe or dislocates his pinkie.

"He stopped the show," a critic tells you. You ask how and get the answer, "He sprained his ankle." Oh for the days when an entertainer had to be wholly an entertainer to get national publicity, his press notices never getting better if he was OUT OF THE SHOW! The Johnsons, Wynns, Fields, Bartons, Rogers, Hiltchcocks, etc., never got their hottest publicity as showmen through minor fractures.

"Let's tune in and see who's substituting!" has become a TV fan's routine plea. "He can't be so good," Junior said to us last night, "he's physically sound."

New TV programs with a mishap background are in order. We hear four programs will soon appear labeled: "From Gags to Stitches," "You Crashed for It," "Trouble or Nothing," and "Howdy Nurse." Broadway is even talking of a legitimate play for Gleason... "TV and Sympathy." (There is nothing to the rumor that if his domestic troubles get any worse, he will appear in "The TV House of the August Gleason.")

Bob Hope says he is headed for new riches... Struck coffee on his head... President Eisenhower is in California... That's a new record for distance from the backfire of a quail gun in Georgia... When Shirley Booth opened in "By the Beautiful Sea" at the Shubert Theatre in New Haven this week, she was only a block from the old Hyperion Theatre where she once played stock and wondered if she ever would make the big time... Policemen's hats in some cities are now being equipped with radios for receiving orders and information while on their beats... This may introduce the cop who, when asked, "Why didn't you act on this information?" will reply, "I was waiting for color video"... Japan reports a pinball craze which is driving hundreds to suicide and crime... Well, no nation can exist half pinball and half normal... If you think the public goes only for the frivolous things, just bear in mind that Reverend Norman Pease's "Power of Positive Thinking" and Bishop Sheen's "Life is Worth Living" are tops on the nonfiction best-seller list with "A Man Called Peter" and "The Greatest Faith Ever Known" close-up... And "The Robe" is again away up on the best-seller fiction list... A Florida super-duper motel gets $35 a day... Probably gives certified racing tips in a hibiscus garden and supplies hourly chart service... Almost a year ago TV officials announced a ban on bogus doctors (men in white coats) giving commercials on medical preparations, but they're still pretty numerous... (Just kidding, eh?)... Mae Barnes, colored songstress from niteries, stops the show in "By the Beautiful Sea" on the row!

Robert S. Allen Reports

Secret Committee Ballot Approves Mail Increases

So far, the best kept secret of this session is that tightly-guarded vote of the House Post Office Committee approving increases in postal rates.

This legislation, militantly advocated by Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield is a red-hot political issue. It was widely doubted the measure would get out of the Committee. It will be vehemently fought in the House, and its fate in the Senate is even more conjectural. Senator Frank Carlson (R., Kans.), chairman of the Senate Post Office Committee is an open foe of the bill.

After the secret House Committee ballot, approving the mail increase by a 13 to 7 count, Chairman Edward Rees (R., Kans.) sternly admonished his colleagues not to divulge how they voted. To further insure secrecy, he ordered the stenographic report of the meeting to be destroyed.

However, this column can now report the details of this politically explosive secret ballot. They are as follows:

Ten Republicans, two Democrats and one Independent voted for the mail boost. Two Republicans and five Democrats voted against it. Four Democrats did not vote at all, and one Republican was not present. This rollcall is as follows:

For increasing rates: Republican Representatives Rees, Robert J. Corbett, P.; Katharine St. George, N. Y.; Gardner Withrow, Wis.; Cecil Harden, Ind.; William Cole, Mo.; Edward Bonin, Pa.; Joel T. Broyhill, Va.; Oliver Bolton, O.; Charles C. Gulser, Calif. Democratic Representatives: Tom Murray, Tenn.; Edward Boland, Mass. Independent Representative: Frazier Reams, O.

Against the increase: Republican Representatives Harold Hagen, Minn.; H. R. Gross, Ia. Democratic Representatives: James Davis, Ga.; John Moss, Calif.; James Morrison, La.; John Dowdy, Texas; William Tuck, Va.

Not voting: Democratic Representatives George Rhodes, Pa.; John Levisins, Mich.; John Jarmann, Okla.; Hugh Alexander, N. C. Republican Representative Albert Cretella, Conn., absent.

Flashes—The Russian Navy has become unusually active off the coast of Red China. Included in these mysterious operations is a large flotilla from Vladivostok, comprising several large cruisers and a number of destroyers. The flotilla appears to be based in the Chusan Island group that is on a direct line opposite Formosa, a stronghold of the Nationalists... Keith Lee, young Reno businessman who is the new Nevada

Democratic State Chairman, is not a partisan of Senator Pat McCarran. This is the first time in years the aged politico has not named a henchman to this key party office. Also for the first time in years, the state convention did not pass a resolution acclaiming McCarran. Significantly, National Chairman Steve Mitchell went out of his way to be cordial and complimentary to Tom McCall, young war veteran who has led the inner party fight against McCarran's long-standing control... The scramble among Iowa Republicans for the gubernatorial nomination is wild and woolly. Already seven candidates have announced and several others are talking of doing so. Meanwhile, the Democrats are uniting behind Clyde Herring, son of the former U. S. Senator. Young Herring is a county attorney and is rated as a good campaigner. He will team up with Democratic Senator Guy Gillette who has announced for re-election.

Pentagon Sparks—Defense Secretary Wilson is going to bat in inner white House circles for a pay raise for the armed services. Previously, he has been lukewarm towards that for economy reasons. But he has changed his attitude since the big civilian agencies started a determined drive for a salary hike. At the last cabinet meeting, Wilson served notice that he will insist on including the military forces in any government pay boost. He declared, "The 3,000,000 men and women in the armed services deserve at least equal treatment with other government workers."

The Joint Chiefs of Staff have recommended the establishment of a new Army command. It will be known as the Continental Command and have over-all direction of the defense of the U. S. mainland. Likely choice for this new post is General Maxwell Taylor, commander of the Eighth Army in Korea... The outlook for most of the 5,000 Army reserve officers who face compulsory release from active duty under the Army's reduced budget. The defense Department is considering asking for additional funds to retain these experienced officers; also to enable the Army to put on active duty for the required two-year tour all the 16,000 ROTC graduates this year. Under the original budget, only half of them would have been activated.

Air Secretary Harold Talbot caused a lot of agitated fluttering in Pentagon circles when word leaked out he had assured Texas members of Congress that the Air Force Academy will go to their state. The powerful California delegation is making a determined fight for this prize and the Pentagon is leaning over backward to keep mum on the matter. So Talbot's "confidential tip" caused a lot of excitement.

George Sokolsky Says...

Import Competition From Low Waged Countries Cause Industry To Suffer

It is not always possible to equate wages absolutely because both the standard and cost of living are important factors in any study. Nevertheless, when the import of goods into the United States is considered, the cost of producing such commodities must be considered in relationship to similar costs in the United States. In this country, wages and taxes are the principal cost of both production and distribution.

According to the American Tariff League, whose statistics are generally reliable, about as reliable as figures can be in this era of propaganda when even governments discolored and distort what they give out, wages currently vary as follows (hourly rate in United States dollars):

|----------------|--------|
| United States | $1.78 |
| Canada | 1.38 |
| Sweden | .75 |
| Belgium | .78 |
| United Kingdom | .47 |
| France | .46 |
| Germany (West) | .44 |
| Italy | .37 |
| Japan | .19 |

These figures must be approximate because of differing exchange values and differing methods of reporting, but they give a fair picture.

The wage gap is enormous and must affect the cost of production and the end price. If to these wage figures were added the cost of taxes, bespoken and hidden, it would be clear that in certain commodities even more efficient production would not close the gap between imported and domestically manufactured commodities. The American-made article will have to leave the market before the onslaught of imports.

Two schools of thought accept this condition as satisfactory:

1. The laissez-faire capitalists who hold that all barriers to trade are worse than the corrections for unsatisfactory conditions. Their view is that if the products of another country can defeat ours in our marketplace, the fault lies with our management, which is not alert enough to beat off competition. There are also those who believe that despite the mechanization of industry to a point approaching the automatic, American management has a superior knowhow which can meet competition from abroad. They point to the automobile as an example.

2. The internationalists hold to the view that unless we make it possible for our allies and other friendly nations to make money in our dollar market, they will forever be dependent upon our subsidies, which cost us more and produce a condition which does us less good than free commerce. They favor a lower tariff or even free trade.

Against these two arguments is the fact that certain industries in the United States, particularly the electrical equipment industry, are already showing signs of suffering from import competition from low-wage countries. This raises the social problem of unemployment for which in this country, during the past two decades, there seemed to be no solution but war.

The argument as to whether the rise in unemployment represents a recession or a depression is academic. For partisan political purposes, one may argue at great length as to the difference between a recession or a depression, just as 15 years ago, propagandistic economists invented the word deflation to confuse us. Fortunately that word is now forgotten. The point is that when Americans are out of work, they get mad. No matter what such unemployment is called, it raises social issues which can only be met on a political level.

The Randall Report added too little information on this subject to be worthy of notice. It seems to have been a wasted effort that may have to be done over again, as accurate data, now unavailable, is essential for reaching correct decisions.

This is the month when politicians do so much quoting of the words of our late great Presidents that half the time we're not sure whether it was Washington or Lincoln who said it.

Why doesn't anybody ever quote President William Henry Harrison? He was born in February, too!

Let's stop being mad at the Brazilians. A newspaper item reveals that they actually pay more for their coffee per pound than we do!

A STRANGER IN PARADISE

Palm Springs, Cal.: The last time this reporter covered a Presidential event (besides the Inaugural for Ike) was at Miami, (Florida), in 1933 when Zangara shot at FDR and hit Mayor Cermak of Chicago... Roosevelt was making a speech in Bayfront Park when the assassin struck... We were in Beverly Hills last Tuesday when we decided to fly with Howard Hughes (in 24 minutes) to this desert paradise, where President Eisenhower and his family are holidaying... Three things decided our coming here.

(1): To see Governor Goodwin Knight, who headed the reception line welcoming the Commander-in-Chief. We hoped to discuss with His Excellency the death sentence of Wesley Wells, sentenced to die April 9th... (2): To report a matter concerning a White House to Jim Hagerty, who assured us the rumors were baseless and that the man had a "Q" clearance, the very highest, and (3): Since we were in Hollywood—so close to Palm Springs—we wanted to be where anything could happen to the most important man in the world.

As the President's plane gracefully came down in the moonlight we realized how simple it could have been for a crackpot (in the crowd) to create a disturbance. The security measures were ample, of course, and in the excitement and general confusion everybody appeared to be thrilled over the distinguished visitors... They were busy looking at the wife and her mother... We caught Mrs. E's eye... She giggled at our cowboy get-up.

We knew two weeks ago the President would fly here... "This is a secret," this reporter was cautioned. "We are going to a place we have never been to—in the Southern California desert for only 5 days. It includes Washington's birthday... We wondered where the Eisenhowers were going... We suspected somewhere near Ben Hogan... When the news broke and the stories said the host would be Paul Hoffman, bakery millionaire Paul H. Helms (in whose home the Eisenhowers are dwelling) phoned the Los Angeles papers and said: "You have it wrong. It's at my house."

Early reports said that Secret Service men had been "casing" the Palm Springs area for "three months"... This couldn't be true since Mr. Helms invited the Eisenhowers only three weeks ago during one of the President's stag dinners for the Nation's "brains."

The President loves to fly but his wife doesn't... Especially on short visits such as this one... Flying wears her out... She doesn't mind it so much if the visit is for two weeks when she can rest... But flying twice in less than a week is for the birds, if you ask the lovable Mamie... Intimates suggested to the President that he paint horses to get away from his studies of people... "I tried horses," he told a friend, "I'm just not good at horses"... Life sent Ernie Hemingway but sent no photographer... He will love the golf here at Tamarisk and Thunderbird. The harder turf sends a ball farther than at Augusta.

As Pico, the El Mirador crayonist, witnessed the excitement he observed with a sigh: "It must be tough being the President. All those newspaper reporters and cameramen. Just like a movie star!"

Ike's dead-ringer lookalike is in town... He is a New Yorker... An independent movie maker named Chester Miller... Sans holding pate, height and grin... The accommodation situation is like this: Even the brother of the Shah of Persia couldn't get a room... Movie stars here include the William Powells, Bill Holden and Betty Hutton... Betty will sing at the cocktail party planned for Hagerty (and the entire press corps), the only entertainer... Near the airport there were several bonfires... Natives tell you: "They are Indian ceremonial fires honoring the President"... Actually they are burning garbage dumps.

The sheriff is Joe W. Rice, an FBI man for 10 years... The Imousine carrying Ambassador Jim Kemper (he has a house here) had a sticker on its windshield: "I still like Ike"... The Ambassador to Brazil is a Chicago insurance man... On the way to the airport he told this one... In Rio a Brazilian went to his doctor for an examination... "How much whiskey do you drink?" asked the Medico... "About four or five drinks a day"... "How much coffee?"... "From 20 to 25 cups"... "Doesn't it keep you awake?"... "Not always, but it helps!"

This is how Ike's host (Helms) fooled the Palm Springs press and the West Coast correspondents about his coming here... Helms made the El Mirador reservations for the Washington newsmen, White House secretaries and Secret Service men by telling the hotel: "It's for a baker's convention"

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

The mayor of Dearborn, Mich., has issued a new order to all city department heads. It reads: "I doubt that he will be able to enforce the order."

The order directs them to observe a 30 min. "Think Period" when they come to work at 8:00 o'clock in the morning.

Mayor Hubbard did not specify what they are to think about, nor how they can get their thinking apparatus started.

But to give you an idea as to what he may have had in mind, it may be worth mentioning that already all the department heads are required to know "The Message to Garcia" by heart and also to be familiar with the boyhood exploits of General Robert E. Lee. I haven't the slightest idea what these two subjects have to do with the proper running of a city.

Thinking is a rather peculiar sort of process. Everybody who thinks he is thinking certainly is not necessarily thinking.

The power to think has been given to everybody. The ability to think, on the other hand, is not nearly as universal.

Scientists say that it is thinking which differentiates the human being from the animal.

Yet, I have seen dogs walking carefully along the edge of a road to avoid oncoming cars, while human beings—the THINKERS—deliberately hogged the road at 60 miles an hour and did not care whom they killed or maimed.

By the way, let me just go back to that "Message to Garcia" for a moment.

Don't ever read that essay by Elbert Hubbard for grammar. It may contain many—very true—grains of wisdom, but no Dearborn department head will ever improve his grammar by reading it.

For instance, here is one paragraph: "Someone said to the President, 'There is a fellow by the name of Rowan who will find Garcia for you, if anybody can.' Any third grade school boy could do better than that."

And then, "The point I wish to make is this: McKinley gave Rowan a letter to be delivered to Garcia. Rowan took the letter and did not ask, 'Where is he at?'"

I wonder where Hubbard was at when he wrote that.

But enough of the merits of Elbert Hubbard's writing. This is about THINKING.

Many a time I have sat down and said to myself, "Now I'll think up a column." Immediately my brain shut tight like a door that had been slammed shut by the wind.

At other times, I might have been talking or "thinking" of something altogether remote from writing, when suddenly, there it was.

But unless I immediately rushed to a pad and pencil and jotted down my "thought," it was gone—usually forever.

I always keep a pencil and paper alongside my bed. Sometimes—often, as a matter of fact—I wake up in the middle of the night and an idea for a column or an article is there as clear as a sunny day. But, unless the idea is put on paper at once, it, too, is gone forever.

The process of thinking is, indeed, mysterious. To be ABLE to think, one has first to learn how to think.

And how to learn to think? I wish I knew.

Try and Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

The nineteenth hole, after a torrid golf match, seemed to be just the place for a doctor and a lawyer to resume their years-old argument over which of their professions was the nobler and the more deserving. "Doc" Wilkins had dreamed up a new approach. "I'm not claiming," he began in sly tones, "that every lawyer is a crook, but you will concede, I think, that the legal profession doesn't exactly make angels out of men."

"You're absolutely correct," boomed Lawyer Weisman happily. "You doctors do that for us."

Unfortunately fellow had an eye so severely bashed in by an irate wife he had to go to the hospital for first aid. An hour later he was back with his other eye in even worse shape. "My wife," he explained, "seems to be still angry at me."

270 Persons At Signal Depot Sign Blood Donor Pledges

Mobile Unit At Tobyhanna Next Tuesday

Tobyhanna — Monroe County's Red Cross blood bank is expected to wipe out its deficit when blood donations are counted at the Signal Corps depot after Tuesday's campaign.

Leroy Mikels, chairman of the county blood bank said last night he was informed by leaders of the blood drive here that 270 pints have been pledged for next week's visit of the mobile unit.

Mikels said the quota had been set at 240, and is almost assured with the pledges. A successful donor program at the depot would do much toward returning the civilian blood bank program to sound footing, it was stated.

Stuart F. Clark, chief of the civilian personnel training branch office at the depot is heading the current campaign. The mobile unit will be set up to handle all pledges from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Col. William M. Mack, commanding officer, urged in departmental notices that employees cooperate by contributing a pint of blood each.

He praised the Red Cross for assisting the nation in its need for blood for military and civilian patients, and the supplying of gamma globulin to safeguard children against polio.

The next blood donor campaign will end on March 24 at the George N. Kemp Post, American Legion home. The Legion-sponsored effort will get under way immediately after next Tuesday's visit by the regional bloodmobile.

Shanley Says He Erred

Washington (AP) — Bernard M. Shanley, special counsel to President Eisenhower, said yesterday he had made an "unfortunate mistake" last November by labeling as "subversives" all federal employees dropped under the administration's security program.

Shanley said his remark that "1,456 subversives have been kicked out of government jobs since the President assumed office" was interpolated in a speech he prepared for a New Jersey advertising group Nov. 6, 1953.

Two weeks before, the White House announced that 1,456 employees on whom there were "unfavorable reports" had been dismissed or had resigned during the first 4½ months of the Eisenhower security program.

This figure was increased to 2,290 in the President's State of the Union message Jan. 7. In neither case was there a breakdown to separate the actual disloyal from drunks, sex perverts, loose talkers and other regarded only as "security" risks.

Officials have said since that some of those resigning did not know their files contained any derogatory information. The Civil Service Commission is trying to get a partial breakdown of the figures.

Shanley said on the day he made his New Jersey speech he telephoned the White House press secretary about the separated employees and through a "misunderstanding" used the term "subversives" in referring to them in his speech that night.

"I know it wasn't true. It was done inadvertently," Shanley said in an interview.

Retailers Must Make Return On Sales Tax Today

Harrisburg (AP) — Joseph C. Snyder, State Sales Tax Division director, reminded retailers yesterday that today is the deadline for making returns for the current three-month report period.

He said all district offices of the sales tax division, including the Harrisburg office, will be open today to receive returns for the three-month period ending Jan. 31.

Heart Drive Needs $758 To Meet Goal

Monroe County's heart fund drive now stands at $2,062 with totals for two districts not included. Also missing from the new total are funds contributed by county residents through the red plastic hearts stationed in business houses and offices throughout the area.

The plastic hearts will be collected Wednesday, according to Mrs. Parke Kunkle, co-chairman of the drive.

Areas for which totals are not included are Pocono Lake, Saylorsburg and Scotrun.

The latter area, according to Mrs. Kunkle, was not covered during last week's drive.

Residents of this rural area will be given an opportunity to contribute to the heart fund on Tuesday night, Feb. 23, Mrs. Kunkle said.

On that night, a group of women, sponsored by the firemen's auxiliary of Tannersville, will visit homes in the Scotrun-Meisertown area.

A goal of $2,760 for the county heart fund drive has been set. Mrs. Fred Kresge, Henryville, will serve as captain of the Tuesday night group with Mrs. Fred Metzgar also in charge.

Wholesale Prices Remain Static

Washington (AP) — Average wholesale prices were unchanged during the week ended Feb. 16, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported yesterday.

The bureau's index, based on the 1947-49 average as 100, remained at 110.5 for the second straight week.

The bureau said that higher average prices of processed foods were offset by lower average prices of farm products and some industrial commodities.

Aid Society Awaits Okay To Handle Adoption Cases

The Children's Aid Society of Monroe County will be approved by the Welfare Department for handling child adoptions following clearance from the parent organization, it was disclosed last night.

Mrs. Isabelle J. Jones, deputy welfare secretary, said the approval will be made as a matter of routine following confirmation from the Children's Aid Society of Philadelphia, parent group of the local society.

32 Teachers Suspended In Red Inquiry

Philadelphia (AP) — Supt. of Schools Louis P. Hoyer yesterday suspended five more teachers for refusing to deny or admit past Communist activities.

The action brings to 32 the number of public school teachers suspended. Six of them have been fired following hearings.

Those suspended yesterday were among eight who appeared this week before the House Un-American Activities Committee in Washington.

They are Miss Delphia Augenblick, Mrs. Sarah T. Crome, Mrs. Leonard C. Jacobs, Mrs. Goldie Watson and Mrs. Angelina Intille.

Hoyer said he would formally prefer charges of incompetency and unfitness against them before the Board of Education March 3.

Hoyer said the cases of the other three who appeared before the House committee are subject to "further study and interviews."

The three are Mrs. Adaline Mahaney, Mrs. Celestine Fulchon and Wilbert McCabe.

At the Washington hearings, Mrs. Mahaney said she had once been a Communist. The other two said they had never been Communists.

Barrett Legion To Construct New Building

Mountainhome — Evans-Blitz American Legion Post 922, with 82 members, is expected to launch a full-scale construction program here in the Spring to build a new Legion hall.

Emmett Boone, commander, said the building program now under way gives members a meeting hall by utilizing the covered area which will ultimately become the basement for the new structure.

The new hall will consist of a natural finished auditorium with "no-shadow" fluorescent lighting, and snack-bar, all on the first floor.

In the basement will be located rest rooms, kitchen and recreation area.

Exterior will be wide weatherboard with a white finish. A large parking area also is planned.

The hall will be made available for public functions, Boone said. This main room is being built for conversion to an emergency hospital in about four hours. Some beds and wheel chairs already are available, Boone said.

Among the programs the post is contemplating are a blood drive and formation of a Model Airplane Club under the guidance of Donald C. Hewlings of Cresco.

Meeting last week members discussed the topic "Our Children of Barrett." From the meeting came a decision to hold Father and Son Night programs at regular intervals.

Mrs. Kirkhuff, Snyder's Native, Dies

Mrs. Name Ardella Kirkhuff, 64, a native of Snyder'sville, died yesterday in Allentown Hospital. She had been ill five months.

Mrs. Kirkhuff had lived with a daughter, Mrs. Harold Kresge in Tobyhanna recently. She had resided in New York City most of her life.

She was a daughter of the late William S. and Nora Wolf Harps.

Survivors are her daughter, Mrs. Kresge; a granddaughter, three sisters, Mrs. Harry Arnold and Miss Bess Harps, Stroudsburg; Mrs. Norman B. Gregory, East Stroudsburg.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday in Kresge funeral home, Brodheadsville. Rev. Donald Nowers, Tobyhanna Methodist Church, will officiate. Interment will be made in Kellersville Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday after 7 p.m.

Railroad Wage Talks Collapse

Chicago (AP) — The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers said yesterday the National Railway Mediation Board had ended unsuccessfully negotiations between the engineers and the nation's railroads over a request for a wage increase.

The union on Oct. 1, 1953, asked the carriers for a wage increase and a skilled differential which the union said totaled 30 per cent. Board mediation began Jan. 27.

Guy L. Brown, grand chief engineer for the union, said the railroads had offered a wage increase of 5 cents an hour.

Firemen, Schoolboys Bring Grass Fires Under Control

Warm weather brought the rubbish-burners out in the open yesterday and wind-fanned sparks took care of the rest.

Two grass fires—one of them a potential forest fire—were reported in this area. Both fires were blamed on sparks from burning rubbish.

At 3 p.m. Stroud Township firemen answered a call in the Stokes Mill Road section.

Grass fire swept across an estimated acre of land on property owned by the Monroe Water Supply Co., Stroud Fire Chief Clyde White reported.

The second grass fire occurred on the Bushkill school grounds at Bushkill.

William Bogert, school janitor, saw the blaze break out shortly after 2 p.m. Bogert ran into the school building; called out boys from the fourth, fifth and sixth grade room taught by Miss Anna Courtright.

The janitor and the pupils succeeded in bringing the blaze under control before it could reach a thick pine grove in back of the school. The area over the hills behind the school is heavily forested.

No fire company was called to the school. Fire spread about 50 feet before it was controlled.

Bogert said the fire was started by sparks from a rubbish fire at the scene. School buildings were not endangered by the blaze, officials said.

Three Former Prisoners Testify Schwable Acted Strangely After Confession

Washington (AP) — Three former POWs testified yesterday that Col. Frank H. Schwable was acting strangely about the time he "confessed" that the United States was waging germ warfare in Korea.

In response to a direct question, Pfc. Melvin J. Gaynor of Tell City, Ind., told a Marine court of inquiry that Schwable did not appear to be "in his right mind" at the time.

Gaynor and Cpl. Eugene R. Vavruska of Tindall, S. D., told of riding in a truck with Schwable when they and other prisoners were transferred from one Communist camp to another on Dec. 8, 1952.

Both men said the flying colonel appeared extremely nervous and at one point during the ride he jumped up and cried: "I'm surrounded by oil."

Red guards silenced him, said Gaynor, who now is stationed at Great Lakes, Ill.

On reaching the new camp they were taken into a mud shack to be fed, Vavruska said, and Schwable suddenly started to shadow box.

Another member of the group, Sgt. 1st class Persson O. Porter of League City, Tex., testified that Schwable appeared "pretty badly shaken up" emotionally and sometimes twitched "like a punch drunk prize fighter."

The truck ride came shortly after Schwable, who had been under intense grilling in solitary confinement, made the statement about germ warfare. He did not sign it, however, until the following January, and Vavruska said:

"He didn't sign it of his own will."

The inquiry, being conducted by three Marine generals and a Navy admiral, is to determine whether the 43-year-old, much-decorated Schwable should be tried by court-martial for submitting to Communist demands that he sign the confession, which he repudiated on being released.

The outcome of Schwable's case, the first of its kind in history, may set a precedent for the disposition of 33 similar cases involving Air Force personnel who also signed germ warfare "confessions."

Grocers estimate that food markets of 1953 had about a thousand items from which the consumer could choose, but that there were 5,000 items in 1953.

Police Reveal Name Of Third Theft Suspect

William Dunlap, 25, former resident of Valley St., Easton, is the third man to be implicated in nearly a score of burglaries in this region and New Jersey for which two Phillipsburg, N. J., men are now held in Monroe County jail.

Dunlap is now serving 15 months in a jail at LaTuna, Tex., for transporting a stolen car across a state line.

Police said Dunlap had taken a car from the Kendall-Ewan Motor Co. in Palmer Township, near Easton, on Nov. 9. He was picked up with the car in Texas on Nov. 19.

Dunlap, police said, was allegedly an associate of Cecil Lawler, 26, and Robert Hutchison, 22, both of Phillipsburg, in the wave of thefts.

The two men held here will have a hearing Wednesday in Easton on charges covering a series of robberies in that region. Authorities said warrants have been issued for Dunlap's arrest on the same charges in the same burglaries. Detainers will be filed against him in Texas.

Jr. Church In Session At Barrett

Barrett—A Junior Church has been organized at the Mountain-home Methodist Church around the nucleus of the Junior Choir. The choir under the direction of Mrs. Martha Price sings a number at the regular church and stays through the opening service. On the second hymn of the church program, they retire in a recessional to the Sunday School room where Junior Church is held. Mrs. Bernice Shepard, who organized the plan, speaks to them each Sunday. The assistant speaker is Mrs. Iva Rose.

All children of the community are invited to attend these services and parents of young children may leave them at the Junior Church while they are attending the adult morning services. The program at Junior Church is planned particularly for the children.

Recently the Junior Church held its first business meeting and elected officers to serve for six months. They are: trustees, Albert Bevan, Mildred Juniper, Patsy Owens, Betty Jane Engert; stewards, Stanley Miller, Bobby Wieboldt, Charles Engert and Frank Nauman; treasurer, Shirley Price; assistant treasurer, Mabel Harrison; and pianist, Donald Shepard and Judy McCoy. The ushers are teams of two boys, appointed to serve for one month.

Plans for the next business meeting date will be announced at the regular service, and will be followed by a social hour with games and refreshments.

Portland Woman's Club 25 Years Old

Portland—The Portland Woman's Club met Wednesday afternoon in the social room of the Portland Baptist Church to celebrate their 25th anniversary.

Mrs. Wayne Van Vorst, vice president, presided and Mrs. David Edwards led the opening meditation.

Mrs. Harry Bellis, drama chairman, presented a humorous reading. Mrs. James Van Kirk sang vocal solos with Mrs. Howard Ott as accompanist; Mrs. J. J. Kneeling gave a patriotic reading, and the member participation program was closed with a skit, "The Minister's Mistake" presented by Mrs. Bellis and Mrs. John Riddle.

The club voted a $5 contribution to the Portland Girl Scouts which they sponsor, and planned for a night meeting in March when the Chord Blenders will be guests. The April meeting will be moved to Tuesday, the 13th. Refreshments were served by the hostess committee which included Mrs. Riddle, chairman; Mrs. W. S. Kennedy, Mrs. Charles Hilbert, Mrs. Russell Reimer and Mrs. Griffith Davies.

VFW Aux, Monday

VFW Auxiliary to Post 2540 will meet at the VFW Home on Monday night at 8 p.m.

The Past Presidents of the auxiliary will be honored at this meeting. All officers are requested to wear white.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

We get waves of stories about certain subjects, and these two weeks we seem to be overwhelmed with PTA meetings. Which is as it should be. The PTA movement is pretty overwhelming in itself in Monroe County. As a matter of fact they've been growing by leaps and bounds this past year.

And it isn't just that they're growing in numbers—which they are. There's Chestnuthill with 69 new members and their meeting the other night. They're also growing in their interests and in their programs.

At one time, you might dismiss a PTA as a group of mothers trying to raise money for the school and to serve as a ready-made audience for pupils to say "pieces" for. But no more.

New they're more adult education groups. They're learning what school authorities are trying to do and something of the methods they're using to do it. They're becoming familiar with school problems and sometimes suggesting some solutions.

They're discovering that the school can't be isolated from the community and are being led into surveys of community needs. They've found out that fathers are parents, too, and valuable PTA members.

Of course the most popular program is still the one in which your child takes part. And many of the PTAs have pet projects which they're supporting until its value is proved.

But in this county, those things are not their prime function anymore. Keep your eye on those PTA groups. They're potent.

Local Girl Is Capped As Nurse

Miss Janet Armitage of 2010 Laurel St., Stroudsburg received her cap at the Capping Ceremony held in the chapel at Pennsylvania Hospital School of Nursing, Philadelphia, on February 15.

Miss Armitage is a graduate of East Stroudsburg High School in the class of 1953 and entered Pennsylvania Hospital School of Nursing in August, 1953.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Armitage and Richard Moore attended the ceremony.

Chestnuthill PTA Doubles Membership

Brodheadsville. Sixty-two new members were welcomed at the PTA meeting in Chestnuthill School here this week. Membership now totals 130. It was reported.

Dr. James Martucci was guest speaker. His subject was "Cancer in Children." A film presented by the American Cancer Society was shown.

Mrs. Robert Keiper of Easton, representative for Northampton on the National County of Parents and Teachers, welcomed the local group into the organization which was formed 53 years ago. She stressed the need of PTA's and urged greater participation in the group.

A clarinet group comprising Marion Koehler, Jeanette Saxe, Marie Schultze and Michael Viarelli offered selections. R. Whitman, the school's music director, was in charge.

Members were urged to prepare questions on school problems for the next meeting at 8 p.m., March 18, when a "question box" will be opened and general discussion held.

Clarence Smith, president, was in charge. The hospitality committee served refreshments. Rev. James Laubach of Gilbert offered invocation and benediction.

Barrett PTA Approves Ambulance

Barrett—The Parent-Teachers Association of Barrett Township School at their meeting on Wednesday night at the school with Emmet Boone, president, in charge, discussed many matters of community interest.

A committee was appointed to investigate the possibility of having a policeman in Barrett Township. Elmer Daniels, Reid Siglin, Gordon Guthrie, Emmett Boone and Mrs. Harold Kreck were named to that committee.

The PTA at their meeting also went on record as approving the need of an ambulance for township use. The action was taken after a report given by John Shumaker. He asked for volunteers for the ambulance corps and said that a treasurer and secretary are also needed.

The road signs which had been placed in front of the school have been removed. It was agreed, until such time as permission can be obtained from the Department of Highways for their continuance.

Andrew Lewis, supervising principal, reported on school activities and needs. The music department is interested in securing a piano to be used on the school stage. The day of school missed in January because of snow will be made up on Easter Monday, April 19. The school will be closed on Washington's Birthday.

Mr. Lewis also announced that Barrett had won the basketball league championship for the first time in 12 years, with the Junior Varsity also winning the junior league championship.

A meeting for parents of tenth and third grade students will be held Monday, March 1, at 8 p.m. at the school, it was announced. A report on individual meetings of class parents was given by Mrs. Graham Andoe for the senior class and Mrs. Reeve Price for the second grade.

The Music Promoters will sponsor a penny supper on Thursday, March 18, at the school, it was announced.

Mrs. E. Shinnen announced that there will be a Clothing Exchange held at the school on Monday, April 5, from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

All clothing must be dry-cleaned or washed and tagged with the name and the price. Donators will receive 75 per cent and the PTA will receive 25 per cent of the price received.

There was a brief discussion on bus patrols and conduct on the school bus.

The second grade class taught by Miss E. Mullens received the $250 award for having the most parents present. Refreshments were served in the Home Economics room by Mrs. Reid Siglin and her committee.

Mrs. Kitchen To Speak At Hamilton PTA

Hamilton Township—The Hamilton Township Parent Teachers Association will meet at the consolidated school, Seinta, on Monday night, February 22, at 8 p.m.

Mrs. James Kitchen, of Pocono Lake, president of the Monroe County PTA, will be guest speaker. Mrs. Lucy Warner's fifth grade will present a musical program, including "Bells," "Sweet and Low" and "Puzzling Questions." Their telephone band will play "Blue Danube" and "The Fox."

The grade having the largest percentage of parents present will receive a prize.

Bake Sale Today

Bartonsville—The Crusader Class of St. John's Lutheran Sunday School, Bartonsville, is sponsoring a bake sale at Hay's Fruit Market this afternoon beginning at 1 p.m. Proceeds will be used for the church furnace fund.

All reservations for the degree team banquet of Camp 289, PO of A, which will be held on Monday, February 22 at 6:15 at Biggs Restaurant must be made with Miss Flora Garis by Wednesday, February 17.

Mothers To Work With Scholars

A new plan designed to acquaint parents with the school activities and capabilities of their children is being inaugurated by the mothers of the second grade at the Campus Laboratory School at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. The new plan is being studied by Mrs. Pauline Peterson, principal of the laboratory school, and Dr. Nathan Meyer, director of placement.

A series of three programs has been planned, the first to be held on Monday afternoon at 1:30 when four mothers will attend school with their children and will work with all the children. The mothers will be rotated so that they will have a chance to observe and work with the children in art, numbers work, stories and poems. The program on Monday will be geared to Washington's birthday.

Working with the mothers will be Mrs. Clarence Booth, first grade supervisor, and the student teachers, Miss Mildred De Poitros, Miss Geraldine Lister and Miss Jane Williams.

Mothers assisting in the series will include Mrs. Harold Boushelli, Mrs. Marvin Burrus, Mrs. William Brown, Mrs. Jack Hincine, Mrs. Robert Lambert, Mrs. Siewa Marsh, Mrs. Robert Sarley, Mrs. Robert Westbrook, Mrs. Thaddeus Wilkins, Mrs. Melvin MacIvaine, Mrs. G. Merritt Millard, Mrs. David Miller, Mrs. LeRoy Morris, Mrs. Wilbur Reinhardt and Mrs. Charles Rushmore.

Freeman Dyson Has Family Home For Birthday

Pocono Pines—Freeman Dyson celebrated his 61st birthday on February 14 when a dinner was given in his honor. A big birthday cake and many gifts marked the party.

All of his children were present but two. Their son John called from South Carolina to add his birthday greetings.

Family members present were Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Dyson and son, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Dyson. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dyson of Stroudsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Daily and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Smith and family of Locust Ridge, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith of Long Pond and son, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Pope and family of Tobyhanna, Mr. and Mrs. George Hettel of Swiftwater and Stanley Dyson and Gladys Dyson.

Class Writes Round Robin To Mission Member

Members of Mrs. Stine's Sunday School class of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church met this week at the home of Mrs. James Brands, 865 Scott St., Stroudsburg.

Those attending were Miss Babette George, Miss Gladys Altomose, Miss Leila Macklin, Miss Leetta Macklin, Mrs. Donald Snyder, Mrs. David Crane, Mrs. George Ludwig, Mrs. Richard Lessig, Mrs. Harold Mosher, Mrs. Milton Possinger, Mrs. Kenneth Stine and the hostess, Mrs. Brands.

During the meeting, plans were laid for a spaghetti supper to be prepared and served under the class sponsorship, and to be held in the church dining room on Thursday, April 8. Tickets will be sold by class members. The next meeting of the class will be on March 23, a week later than usual so as not to conflict with the "Spiritual Life Mission" to be held the previous week, and will be held at the home of Mrs. David Crane with Miss Gladys Altomose assisting her as hostess.

A "round robin" letter was written to Miss Barbara Hartman, a member of this class, who is serving in a Methodist missionary hospital as a pharmacist, at Wembo Nyama in the Belgian Congo, Africa. Miss Hartman was commissioned through the women's division of the board of missions of the Methodist church. The book "Aleg Unawares," written by Dale Evans, wife of Roy Rogers, was reviewed by the class.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Brands who was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Milton Possinger.

Around The Stroudsburgs

Bruce Muransky celebrated his birthday this week with a party at the Pocono Playhouse Group at the Stroudsburg Methodist Church with all the children of the school joining him for birthday refreshments.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

"I've led a very quiet life," Eva Edson said as she sat opposite my desk with her usually busy hands folded in her lap. "I just don't know a thing you could say about me—not a single thing." Her daughter, the wife of Clarence Booth of East Stroudsburg, is equally at a loss for words. "Mother is wonderful," she tells you, "and she lives for her family—particularly her grandchildren—but she doesn't reminisce a great deal. She seems to face each day as it comes, and look ahead."

It may very well be that this last statement is the very reason Eva Edson looks years younger than her age, and why, even now, after a life filled with hard work and responsibility, she has a bubbling, spontaneous laugh that rings out in instant appreciation of a humorous joke or amusing incident.

Eva Hinesline was born in Middle Smithfield, but grew up on her father's farm in Moscow, Pa. Hers was a typical country childhood, and, as the eldest of five, she soon learned self-sufficiency. It seemed natural and fitting to her that she should become the "little mother" of her sister and three brothers.

At the age of eighteen she returned to this area, accepting a position with a local family. While here she met Elsie Edson, a borough street supervisor known to his friends as "Lie." He was undoubtedly the "Lie" of Eva's life, and in 1909 they were married. Their marriage ended sadly in 1936 when Mr. Edson died, just about the time the oldest son, Charles, was graduating from high school. Two younger children, Helen and Thomas, were still entirely dependent upon the young widow, and in 1936 Eva Edson, a part-time employee since 1923, came to work at Wyckoff's permanently, in the alterations department under Rose Ziegenfuss.

Just when she began to sew, Eva herself does not know. It was a talent that came naturally, and which had been put to use in home dressmaking. Today she can rip a suit apart, cut it down, and stitch it back together without losing one thread of its original beauty. Her own severest critic, she sets a high standard for her workmanship. "It must be just right before I'm satisfied," she says, "and I don't care how long I must work to make it that way."

One of the few alarming incidents of her career illustrates, better than testimonials, the perfection of her work. It occurred some time ago when a coat that had been altered, accidentally rested against a light bulb until the yoke was pierced. A telephone call was made to the manufacturer, requesting a piece of identical fabric. Another call was made to the customer, explaining the situation and promising a refund if the repairs were not completely satisfactory. "That was several years ago and we never heard another word," Eva tells you, "so it must have been all right. But it's a good thing it happened now and not when I first came in. If I had been new, I'd have grabbed my own coat and left in disgrace."

A staunch Methodist, Eva Edson is devoutly religious, but possesses a keen appreciation of humor. She loves parties and store activity, but prefers to sit on the sidelines observing the gaiety and reveling in it. She loves gardening and takes as much pride in a good bed of lettuce as she does in a pretty bouquet of her own roses or "glads." The flowers of the lily family are her favorites. At one time she read a great deal, but Television has changed that. Now she watches the dramas—particularly Circle Theater. News programs interest her too, but she turns the dial upon wrestlers and fighters. "They're too rough and noisy for me," she says. "I like things peaceable and quiet." Our Eva is a lady.

P-K Engineer Tells Club Of Shell Blender

A Patterson-Kelley Co. engineer addressed members of the Stroudsburg High School Math Club yesterday morning.

Kenneth Petry, Stokes Mill Road, discussed events leading up to invention of a "twin shell blender" used by the company in its work.

Problems which arose during early stages of work on the instrument were described in detail.

Petry emphasized the present need in industry for both "practical engineers without degrees and engineers who have had scholastic training for their jobs."

Each type of engineer contributes valuable portions to the perfection of improvements in industrial equipment, Petry said, pointing out that both practical and college-trained engineers had worked on the P-K device.

Petry gave the club a demonstration of the blender, describing its uses as part of industrial equipment.

Miss Julia Sieg is adviser to the mathematics club. Officers are: Marian Swartley, president; Allen Barber, vice president; and Genevieve Battisto, secretary.

All Investors Must File Tax Report

Clerks at the county commissioners' office yesterday emphasized that all persons having investments of any kind must file the personal property tax form required by law.

Due to an error in reporting, yesterday's edition of this newspaper identified the forms with persons holding "interest-bearing investments."

This is not true, the commissioners' office said yesterday.

The personal property tax form must be filed by all persons holding investments, shares of stock, judgments, mortgages, bonds etc.

A deadline of Feb. 27 has been set for submission of the forms to commissioners. The new deadline gives county residents a 12-day extension. The original deadline was Feb. 15 (last Monday).

A penalty of 12 per cent will be added to an estimated assessment for failure to make return by Feb. 27 under the new deadline.

Phone 1434-R-4

Among those from here who attended Tuesday's meeting of the Pocono Garden Club were: Mrs. Thomas McCool, Sr., Mrs. Martha Henry, Mrs. Vida Sickler, Mrs. Walter Lindstedt and Miss Louise Meyer.

Mrs. May White called on Mrs. Vida Sickler on Thursday.

On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Tucker were shopping in Stroudsburg.

Belated birthday greetings to Richard Post whose birthday was on Valentine's Day.

Valentine's Day was the eighth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barry.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Westphalen, Jr., of Massapequa, Long Island spent the weekend with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wood.

This month's meeting of The Woman's Society of World Service will be held at the home of Mrs. Steward Bush on Thursday night, Feb. 25, at 8 o'clock. Members will bring used clothing for a shipment to a missionary overseas. Any one in the community who wishes to contribute clothing for this worthy project may call any of the society members, who will gladly call for the articles.

THE ODDS ARE AGAINST YOU—if you're one of the smart operators who has been telling his friends he's got all this "Emperor's New Clothes" business figured. One line of reasoning adopted by local pundits during the past week has gone something like this: The "Emperor" is required to appear during the operetta's climatic scene minus all but his royal dignity. Who else could accomplish such a feat but one of the very young in heart—like, say, the beaming lad complete with crown in our photo here. Hate to disillusion you, chums, but the horrible truth is that it just ain't so. King of his own domain this lad may be, but he is not the "Emperor." So if you've been offering to give your friends odds that the Hans Christian Andersen ruler turns out to be a child king in swaddling clothes, better back down fast friend. The smart money says he's a genuine adult. You'll find out who it is on the first night the operetta is presented—Feb. 26 at State Teachers College auditorium. (Lawrence Studio Photo)

Sports Contests Top YMCA Youth Activities This Week

Youth activities by the Young Men's Christian Association included volleyball and basketball contests this week.

According to Carleton C. Chopp, youth director, members of the Stroudsburg Hi-Y and Barrett Hi-Y clubs engaged in sports contests at the latter club.

Ping pong contests were played in Stroudsburg between the two clubs on Wednesday night.

Barrett's Indian lore group, after months of study, chose "The Kohans Indians" as a name for the organization. Meaning "skillful dancers", the name is taken from the language of the Sioux Indians.

The group is working on ceremonial dancing at present. First dance by the group will be held March 9 at the annual Monroe County YMCA meeting.

A candy sale is now being carried on by local Gra-Y clubs in cooperation with the Panther Gra-Y at Morey School. Profits from the sale go to the YMCA's world service program to increase overseas Ys.

Girls of the Barrett Tri-Hi-Y are now working on cancer bandages as a club project. A large induction ceremony will be held March 8 at the school in Cresco.

Petitions Received By POS of A

Dale H. Learn, state vice president of the Patriotic Order Sons of America, announced yesterday an additional feature for the county-wide rally tonight at 6:30 at the hall of Camp No. 236, on S. Sixth St.

He said blank petitions have just been received, to be signed and sent to Washington against admitting Communist China to the United Nations. Hundreds of these petitions will be circulated by the POS of A throughout the Nation. Signatures will be secured at the rally tonight.

The program starts with a buffet supper at 6:30. This will be followed with a brief humorous message and the showing of pictures in color that pertain to the lives of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. All members of the order in Monroe County have been invited to the affair tonight, together with their families.

Mr. Learn said a special tribute will be paid tonight to several dignitaries of the order, but that this portion of the program will be in the nature of a surprise for those to be honored.

It was also announced that at the last meeting of Camp No. 236, eight new candidates were approved for membership.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

OF GEORGE WASHINGTON it has been said that nature and fortune combined in a matchless way to make a man great. On this anniversary of his birth, if we ask ourselves what in the man was greatest, there comes to mind his full devotion to the American cause. Having fought for a nation of free men, he spurned even the thought of being king.

As free men in a world which is largely enslaved, let us act unstintingly to keep our country as Washington wanted it to be. We can all participate by purchasing United States Savings Bonds regularly.

Every bond we buy gives us a stronger position in the world, and every bond makes our individual future more secure—for back of it is the integrity of the United States of America.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

It's virtually impossible to mention the Pocono Mountains Basketball League without reopening the sore caused by the action of the circuit in first banning and then readmitting Getz's Harmony Five. Right now there are more stories making the rounds of the circuit than there are headaches in the stock market. Each side has a multitude of yarns, many of which have no foundation, but are rather based on hearsay and do much more damage than good in bringing the problem near a solving stage.

Clint Getz, sponsor of the Harmony Five, informed this writer that there is no ill feelings between his players as far as the I. B. Miller team is concerned and would like very much to see the next game between the two contingents played. The I. B. Miller club recently decided to forfeit both second half games to the Harmony Five, for what they called "ill feelings among the players." Getz announced that his team isn't anxious to win any game by forfeit.

The Harmony Five is anxious to forget all past differences between the various teams and the league and would like very much to renew a normal schedule. Getz told this scribe that even the disputed game with I. B. Miller didn't bring about hard feelings among the players. He also informed this column that players on both squads associated after the heated contest that brought about one of the wildest upheavals in the history of basketball in Monroe County.

As undoubtedly has been noticed since this argument began, this column hasn't taken sides, but rather has taken turns pointing out the various arguments set forth by the combatants. But, I would like at this time to call all sides together and for the good of basketball in the area, not to mention the league and various teams, to ask the various coaches to shake hands and call a truce. Nobody is gaining by present actions, stories making the rounds are tearing the foundation of the newly formed league apart and fans are filled up with their Adams Apple with this argument. A meeting is needed, and needed badly, to completely settle the question.

Coolbaugh's Dave Keiper suffered a broken finger in the first three minutes of the initial quarter in last week's game with Chestnut Hill, won by the latter, 43-42. But the extent of the injury wasn't known until the next day. The injured cager had little to say about his damaged hand, but his play was not up to snuff. Ed Champney, Keiper's substitute, was in uniform, but far below par physically due to a case of virus. In the same game Harold Burkett, Chestnut Hill, played his first game of the Monroe County League season without a splint on a finger broken earlier in the season.

Thursday's Blue Mountain League basketball game between the Stroudsburg Poconos and Grand Theater enriched the Varsity "E" Club treasury by more than $20. The crowd attending this game was the largest to see Grand Theater perform on the East Stroudsburg High hardwood this season. The reason Henry "Hank" Stetler was late for the Thursday court battle was that he overslept during an early evening nap. Jack Whittle, former Stroudsburg High football and basketball player, made his debut with Biggs' Restaurant quintet in the YMCA League on Thursday.

Jack has been unable to play basketball at Stroudsburg High this season due to a broken foot suffered in an automobile accident just before the campaign got underway. Whittle scored only four points for Biggs' crew, but his rebounding ability brought praise from several sources. Stroudsburg opened its doors 10 minutes early last night in order to handle the anticipated large turnout of Palmerton fans, who are rooting for the Bombers to capture the second half championship in the Lehigh Valley League.

It's funny how some junior and senior athletes refuse to grow up. It's about time some of our would-be athletes learn that practice is where the lesson is learned and not under actual combat conditions. Some of our local talent likes to clown through drill sessions and often times their play in actual games shows need for hard work. It is also about time that players and even coaches in this area learn that they must live up to the regulations if they are to operate as a member of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association. Rules are made to keep, not break.

Bangor High has lost seven Lehigh-Northampton League contests by not more than six points. The average is something slightly over four points per ball game. Several members of the Blue Mountain Baseball League still owe franchise fees for the 1954 campaign, although the deadline for this payment was originally set for Monday, February 8.

East Stroudsburg Cagers Roll Over Pen Argyl, 75-42

Cavaliers Win Initial Second Half Tussle

Pen Argyl—East Stroudsburg High's concentrated attack enabled the Cavaliers to break a victory famine with a one-sided 75-42 verdict over Pen Argyl, in a Lehigh-Northampton League contest played on the losing club's home court.

The Cavaliers, playing determined basketball, shot from the starting line like a race horse and completely dominated play against the green and white clad host contingent.

Nine members of the East Stroudsburg squad broke into the scoring column as the charges of Coach Dick Forster picked up their eighth win in 21 outings thus far.

This season. Last night's victory was the initial favorable decision for the Cavaliers against five defeats in two second half of the Lehigh-Northampton League.

East Stroudsburg ran up 24 points in the first period, while Pen Argyl was credited with 11. The Cavaliers continued to roll with a 4-0 edge in the second stanza and led at halftime, 38-20.

The Cavaliers cleared the bench in the second half as 11 members of the visiting squad got into action. Even with the second stringers on the court the Forstermen continued to dominate play, holding a 16-7 advantage in the third round and a 21-15 bulge in the last eight minutes of play.

East Stroudsburg held a wide 29-12 advantage in field goals and made good on 17 of 28 charity tosses. Pen Argyl converted 18 of 31 free throws.

Bill Pensyl led the East Stroudsburg scoring attack with 18 points, with three other members of the winning team hitting for double figures. Dick Dendith and Sherwood Roberts, with 11 and 18 markers respectively, were the big guns for Pen Argyl.

Pen Argyl gained a measure of revenge with a 59-57 nod in the junior varsity tussle. Danny Marvin led the East Stroudsburg scoring with 10 points.

Barrett Wins Junior Varsity

Barrett won over the Monroe County League All-Stars in the junior varsity portion of last night's annual clash, 43-22, before a full house at East Stroudsburg High school.

Upper Hand
The Barrett yearlings, coached by Joe Murray, held the upper hand in each quarter while rolling to the convincing victory after winning the regular season championship.

All-Stars Rally To Defeat Barrett

A solid foul shooting performance carried the Monroe County League All-Stars to a 44-39 victory over Barrett last night before a capacity crowd in the East Stroudsburg High gymnasium.

It took a last quarter rally by the All-Stars, the pick of five circuit schools, to turn the tide against the regular season title holder. Barrett actually held a 14-11 advantage in the field goal department, but the All-Stars, wearing Coolbaugh's green and white jerseys, converted 22 of 38 tosses from the free throw line. Barrett made good on 11 of 22 foul shots.

Fountain Hill Shows Power Against Bangor

Bangor—Fountain Hill, one of the big names in the second half flag race in the Lehigh-Northampton League, went on a scoring rampage here last night and buried Bangor under a 90-45 score. The contest was played on the losing squad's home court.

The victory enabled the Fountain Hill club to notch its seventh second half win without a defeat, while Bangor absorbed its fourth loss in six second half outings.

Fountain Hill, enjoying a decided advantage in height, found the going tough in the first period, but opened the scoring gates in the second round and the charges of Coach Charley Dubbs rolled to a commanding victory.

Tough Pace
Bangor, playing without Don Keat and far below par physically, trailed by only six points at the end of the first period, but couldn't stand the pace the remainder of the distance.

The Slaters trailed 43-20 at half-time and then were the victims of a phenomenal shooting performance by Fountain Hill in the second half. The visiting five led 73-28 at the three-quarter mark and held Bangor to a 17-17 draw in the last round.

Fountain Hill made good on 20 of 30 foul shots, while Bangor hit on 17 of 29 free throws.

Bob Breidenbach led the Fountain Hill attack with 21 points, while Duane Miller paced Bangor's offensive with 13 tallies.

Fountain Hill also defeated Bangor in the junior varsity tussle, 75-44.

Bombers Trim Stroudsburg

Palmerton Triumphs From Foul Line

Palmerton High's championship hungry Blue Bombers used a strong first quarter as a spring board to a 65-51 victory over Stroudsburg High last night, before a near capacity crowd in the W. Main St. gymnasium.

The Blue Bombers, showing a deceptive defense, clever ball handling and shooting ability from both the field and foul line, jumped off to a 15-6 lead in the first period and then protected the advantage in the face of a threat thrown up by a Stroudsburg club that kept trying until the final whistle.

The Mountaineers, led by Don Garaventi and Dave Nevil, were able to outscore Palmerton in only the second quarter and that was by a mere 12-9 margin. The Bombers were on the long end of a 24-18 count at the halfway mark.

Art George and Jimmy Oravec, two smooth cagers, continued to keep Palmerton on top in the second half, as the scoring tempo on the part of both clubs showed improvement.

The Bombers held a 19-17 edge in the third round and a 22-19 advantage in the final stanza, as Oravec and George were as brilliant off the respective backboards as they were in the scoring column.

Palmerton's margin of victory came at the foul line, as both teams were credited with 19 field goals. The Bombers made good on 27 of 32 charity tosses, while Stroudsburg found the range on 16 of 25 attempts from the free throw line.

Stroudsburg was charged with only three personal fouls in the first half, but committed 19 during the course of the third and fourth rounds. Palmerton committed five personal in the first two periods and nine in the second half.

George and Oravec combined for 47 of the winning 65 points. The former registered 25 tallies on nine field goals and a seven-for-seven performance from the foul line. Oravec made good on 12 of 13 free throws and canned five shots from the floor for 22 points.

Garaventi was the big gun for Stroudsburg with 15 counters, including a five-for-seven show at the foul line. Nevil was next in line with 11 counters.

Palmerton made a clean sweep of the program with a 38-34 victory over Stroudsburg in the junior varsity tussle.

Castellani Outclasses Durando In Garden Ring For Eighth Straight Favorable Decision

New York (AP)—"Rocky" Castellani, top-ranking middleweight contender from Cleveland, handed Ernie "The Rock" Durando an artistic boxing lesson last night to score a top-sided 10 round decision over the slow-moving Bayonne (N.J.) bomber in Madison Square Garden. Castellani weighed 160 1/2, Durando 160.

It was the eighth straight victory for the 26-year old ex-Marine and his second win in three fights with the powerful but inept Jerseyite.

Two years ago Durando came from far behind to stop the broad shouldered Castellani with a tremendous right uppercut to the jaw in the seventh round.

Last night Ernie couldn't score with a solid right until the ninth round but by then some of the steam had gone out of his punches and while the blow hurt it didn't drop Casty.

"Rocky" held on for all he was worth and then Ernie clipped him with another right to bring a roar from the crowd of 5,865 which paid $19,335 for the telecast and broadcast bout.

Castellani, cheered earlier for his dancing tactics, brought cheers from the fans when he came back fighting in the five-fist round of the one-sided fray.

The votes, all for Castellani, were: Referee Al Berl, 8-2; Judge Harold Barnes, 7-2-1 and Judge Jack Gordon, 9-0-1. The Associated Press scorecard had Castellani ahead, 9-1, giving Durando only the ninth.

Greene-Dreher Easily Dumps Honesdale

Newfoundland — Greene-Dreher-Sterling High emerged the winner in a wild Wayne County Basketball Conference game with Honesdale last night, 75-60, here on the winning club's home boards.

The game was marked by a total of 106 foul shots, 61 of which were converted. Honesdale made good on 34 of 57 charity tosses, while the Stags found the range on 27 of 49 free throws.

Never Recovers
Honesdale never recovered from a 26-9 lacing in the first quarter, although the visiting contingent did outscore the Greene-Dreher reserves in the third and fourth periods, 15-14 and 22-20.

Greene-Dreher had the better of the second round, 15-14, and marched to the dressing room at halftime with a big 41-23 advantage. Honesdale was never able to seriously threaten the home team's advantage.

Bob Lupcho and Captain Bob Cron led the Greene-Dreher attack with 22 and 19 points each, while Bob Perry was the big gun for Honesdale with 20 tallies.

Greene-Dreher also defeated Honesdale in the junior varsity game, 38-33.

Legion Magazine Features Sokolsky In Lead Article

New York—George E. Sokolsky, author of "These Days," which appears in The Daily Record, is the subject of a lead article in the March issue of The American Legion magazine which appears this week.

According to author Norman Beasley, Sokolsky, who is regarded by many as one of the foremost experts in the U. S. on Communism, got his knowledge of the subject firsthand. When the Czarist regime was overthrown in 1917, he was editor of a British-owned English language newspaper in

George E. Sokolsky

Petrograd. He observed how the Kerensky government in turn was ousted by the Bolsheviks led by Lenin. Anger at what he saw appeared in his writing and he was soon forced to flee to Harbin, Manchuria, the article states.

After spending the next 13 years in China, Sokolsky returned to the U. S. and in 1935 began his career as a columnist on the New York Herald Tribune. In 1940 he signed a contract with King Features Syndicate, which now forwards his six-columns-per-week to more than 350 newspapers.

In addition to his column, Sokolsky comments on world and national affairs once a week over a radio network, makes about a hundred lectures a year and raises trees on his Massachusetts farm.

Through the years, says the Legion magazine story, Sokolsky's keen interest in Asia has prompted him to comment often on U. S. foreign policy there. Recently he wrote:

"To understand these people, we cannot apply western criteria or we shall fail with them altogether, as we have already failed after more than a century of experience in China . . . We Americans have described things, their production, their wealth to peoples who accepted a beggar, a camel driver, a child born in a manger as prophets or even as a manifestation of God. Poverty has never been a crime or a sin in Asia."

"This needs to be understood, for we are losing a war without fighting because we are thus far not prepared for victory which can only be won by ideas . . ."

Sokolsky occasionally casts a jaundiced eye at his own profession of newspapering, according to author Beasley. He quotes him as saying: "Newspapermen have become too polite, or too gentlemanly, or too lazy. I don't know which. But I do know that the job of a newspaperman is not to be a gentleman. His job is to be a reporter, or an editor—and he is in that job for only one purpose:

"To get the facts, to write them, and to print them."

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 2. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Some Offices Mark Monday As Holiday

Most schools in Monroe County still operate on regular schedules Monday, Washington's birthday.

Two exceptions are Barrett and Paradise schools, where a full-day holiday will be observed. East Stroudsburg office of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service will operate on its routine schedule, officials announced.

Nearly all State and county offices will close. Banks and post offices will be closed for the day.

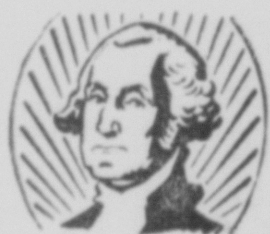

Stroudsburg postoffice building and all offices located there will close as will other postoffices, Veterans Affairs, the Department of Forest and Waters, Department of Public Assistance and State Department of Health.

All courthouse offices will observe the holiday by closing. Liquor stores will also be closed.

Red Cross Fund Workers To View TV Program

Captains in the coming Red Cross fund campaign in Monroe County are scheduling television house parties for their workers Monday from 12:45 to 2 p. m. to watch a program which will be televised over channel 6, WFIL-TV. They are being organized so that the solicitors may learn about the Red Cross, the way it functions and its programs. In sections where the house party has not been arranged, the captains and their workers are asked to watch the program on their individual

AN ENDURING IDEAL

Washington's was an enduring ideal of democracy because he had a deep understanding of the needs of all the people. Likewise, an enduring ideal of close personal cooperation with every patron underlies the service of the East Stroudsburg National Bank.

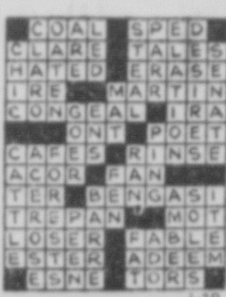

It has made this institution dependable for helpfulness . . . as well as for safety . . . throughout the changing years. You will find that this ideal shows in the conduct of every one of our departments.

3,650 Dogs Licensed In County

Dog owners of Monroe County have stepped up their applications for licenses in the past two weeks but many still have neglected to renew their licenses for 1954.

Frank Weller, county treasurer, said 3,650 licenses have been issued this year. Early this month only 2,497 owners made application. In 1953, 4,684 licenses were sold in the county.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1954

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Born before April 6th: more care needed in financial affairs and employment department. Born in latter period: you can make headway if you don't shirk the tedious though important tasks.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Extra care advised in a.m.—especially for confidential affairs, also shipping, traveling. Maintain balance in your ideas and actions. Clear vision is necessary to efficient functioning.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Your natural attitude is sometimes to take a quick look then act. Today look then stop to think well before acting. Fact, thoughtfulness further progress, make friends.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Day offers wide scope and some advantages if you will analyze and follow through intelligently. You might take on an unusual and far-reaching project if it has value.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Aspects indicate benefits in promotion, advertising, creating new and massed work handles, fun giving things; also through mechanics, social service and industrial matters.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Personal matters, health and family affairs are rated top. Inventions may be effective. Romance, courtship, social and children's care can bring much satisfaction, lasting blessings.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Excellent aspects. Achievement is possible if you concentrate on worthwhile matters. Be aggressive but don't be guided by selfish motives. Help give assistance to loved ones.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—You are among the keen and quick on the trigger. Zestful natives. This can work to your advantage and vice versa. Pace your actions to acquire results without strain or pressure.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius)—Star aspects made to order for you. Jupiter-ruled individuals. Jupiter bestows optimism and benevolence. With your five attributes you have much to offer this world.

December 24 to January 23 (Capricorn)—One of the favorable periods this month for you, folks. 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.; plan carefully, work harder for top results. It's a matter of coordination. Rays generate initiative now.

January 24 to February 23 (Aquarius)—Combine your energy and knowledge to move forward faster and, with honest effort, you can expect fine rewards. This should be a happy day, generally, for you and your loved ones.

February 24 to March 23 (Pisces)—Similar to Aquarius today. Strike a middle-of-the-road course in money, business matters; be satisfied with honest gains. Don't demand more than you can give.

YOU BORN TODAY are on the idealistic side, with a leaning toward science, mechanics and philosophical knowledge.
